

Historic England

Embedding the History and Heritage of Leicester in your School Curriculum.

Would you like to develop your local history curriculum and make it more relevant and bespoke to your school?

This Autumn Term, the Heritage Schools Programme is offering a series of training sessions specifically for Leicester City schools, all funded by the Department for Education and free to attend.

Training Session Overview:

1. Online Introduction (26th September 4:00-5:00pm):

Our first session will be a one-hour online Teams training session. This introduction will familiarize you with the programme and demonstrate free online resources to help you begin exploring the story and heritage of your school.

2. Full-Day Training in at KRILL Visitor's Centre (10th October):

Participants will receive a bespoke map and aerial photograph pack, along with training on how to utilize these materials in various ways with your pupils. You will also learn how to develop your local history unit and receive additional resources and support. The day will include a heritage trail around central Leicester, where you will uncover the hidden histories of the area and learn to use 'standing archaeology' as primary evidence within your history curriculum. Please note, although the event is free to schools, the resources provided, and the venue incur a considerable cost. Therefore, please ensure your SLT have confirmed your ability to attend and provide as much notice as possible if you need to cancel as another school/teacher may be able to take your place.

To book your place please register with this link:

<https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/1004540416427?aff=oddtcreator>

3. Ongoing Support Network:

Subsequent sessions will be arranged later in the term, providing an opportunity to join a support network with other teachers who share the same role. This network will foster collaboration and idea-sharing, ensuring continuous development and inspiration.

For more information about the training sessions, or if the Eventbrite link tells you that the session is sold out, please contact Ismail at Ismail.Dale@historicengland.org.uk